Stepping Stones Criteria of Service

Stepping Stones Recreation and Leisure programs are designed for individuals with a mild to moderate Intellectual, Developmental or Physical Disability.

In order to maintain a quality program, sessions are designed to accommodate specific needs of participants through staffing ratios, programming, and activity goals. With our unique environment and seasonal staff, our goal is to accommodate as many participants as we can safely accommodate. Unfortunately we are unable to serve participants at this time who demonstrate one or more of the following:

- Participants who requires 1:1 support
- Participants who require assistances in their daily routine as defined (eating and toileting care). Must be able to perform personal care tasks independently or with verbal prompting.
- Extreme aggression towards self or others
- Flight risk off camp property
- Safety risk towards open bodies of water and roads
- Sexual behavior directed towards others
- Significant property destruction
- Severe self-injurious behavior
- Consistent refusal to participate in group activities and programming
- History of poor program attendance

Stepping Stones continually assesses individual eligibility and to determine enrollment.

Stepping Stones reserves the right to dismiss an individual at program based on illness, injury, or safety risk to themselves or others.
